

Connected and Reliable

You can live in your own home independently, secure and free from worry. Assistance is there when you need it - day or night - with a Personal Emergency Reporting System (PERS) from Maximum LIFEAlert, the company known for quality and innovation in PERS systems and accessories.

Be like thousands of other American seniors who enjoy an independent lifestyle with the help of an emergency system at your fingertips. This simple to use, yet sophisticated emergency alarm and notification system lets you live the life you choose to lead.

Transmitters...Pick the Perfect One

New! Long Range Pendant Transmitter

Pendant style one-button, one-channel, water resistant, long range supervised transmitter designed for use in emergency applications adjustable lanyard with breakaway release, two-color activation indicator, black case.

New! Long Range Watch Transmitter

Wristband style one-button, one-channel, water resistant, long range supervised transmitter designed for use in emergency applications, adjustable silicone wristband, two-color activation indicator.

Personal Emergency Reporting System

Supervised emergency reporting system receiver/control, monitors up to 16 transmitters, can be manually activated, activity timer option, two-way voice option, point-ID reporting allows multiple users.

Supervised Photoelectric Smoke Detector or Carbon Monoxide Detector

Supervised photoelectric smoke detector or carbon monoxide detectors with built-in transmitter, supervised for low battery and send hourly status signals.

215-949-3636

www.OrthoticCareLLC.com

a division of

Maximum Security Services

Independent Living without Leaving Home

Personal Emergency Reporting System

The compact, easy-to-use design of Maximum LifeAlert's Personal Emergency Reporting System makes it usable practically anywhere in the home. The table-top or wall-mount Console provides push button emergency assistance to anyone who desires security and peace of mind.

Table Top
or Wall Mount

Monitored 24 Hours a Day

The Maximum LifeAlert Console connects to your home telephone line. With the push of a single button, it automatically places a call to trained professionals for help whenever you need assistance, any time of the day or night.

Simple to Use

The wireless transmitter functions like a single-button TV remote that can be worn, or placed nearby. Once activated, your call will be answered by a trained professional.

Personal and Programmable

PERS responds to emergency services and family members of your choosing, and can pre-select those people you need to respond in specific situations: family members, neighbors, friends or appropriate emergency personnel.

Versatile

PERS is outfitted to meet your needs and lifestyle. Choose from a variety of wireless transmitters, including neck pendants, key rings, handheld, belt clip and wristbands. The transmitter is completely water-resistant, so you can even wear it in the shower.

Dependable

PERS equipment is listed as a home healthcare signaling device by Underwriters Laboratories (UL), the trusted resource across the globe for product safety certification.

Original

Our equipment is manufactured by a leader in the industry and one of the pioneers of Personal Emergency Reporting Systems. The company has a well-earned reputation in the radio frequency (RF) or "wireless" approach to alarm signal transmission.

How It Works...

Just Press the Button

The Maximum LifeAlert console, designed for tabletop use and for bedside placement, features a large EMERGENCY button. Press either the wearable transmitter or console button to receive assistance.

Get Immediate Contact

The Console receives your signal and immediately and automatically places a call to the Emergency Monitoring center for you.

Say What You Need

A trained professional at the Emergency Monitoring Center talks directly to you to assess the help you need, and will stay on the line with you until assistance arrives.

Get the Help You Specify

Depending on your situation, the Emergency Monitoring Center professional will call the person you specify, whether a family member, friend, neighbor, or emergency personnel.

Pendant or
Wristwatch Style

